FEED BACK FROM THE STUDENTS

Ganesh Chaturthi is a festival which is celebrated all over India to worship Lord Ganesh, is becoming more eco-friendly nowadays. Generally, Ganesh murtis are made of Plaster of Paris, are immersed in water after Ganesh Chaturthi, which harms the water bodies.

Idols made of Plaster of Paris are non-biodegradable and it will contaminate water by killing the sea-going lives and expanding the corrosive substance of the water. While eco-friendly idols are degradable and they won't hurt any living creatures in the water.

If we want a Ganesha Idol made of Plaster of Paris, we may need to rely upon the sculptor, in the case of eco-friendly idols, we can make them ourselves with the help of our family members and friends. It spreads more satisfaction and congruity among the individuals. The bond is one of the significant factors of bringing home an eco-friendly idol.

I year MBBS students:

"It was really nice experience working with our seniors. They guided us and were so friendly and so supportive. We thank them for helping us out with their ideas. Hoping to do even better if we get an opportunity in future too."

II year MBBS students:

"Decorating a place in an eco friendly way for events is something we have never tried after getting colour papers, plastic sheets, plastic leaves and flowers, thermocol and shimmers.

All of our generation had gradually forgotten our traditional way of decorating for festivities with leaves and flowers,

We Realised how beautiful our traditional decoration was and we creatively used the mango leaves, made patterns in them decorated our premises.

While making these we interacted with our Juniors gave them suggestions, worked with them and built a nice rapport.

On 7th day, Idol was buried along with planting the peepal sapling over the area in our campus. We believe "Nature is our God".

"The pooja ceremony got in so much of divinity and pure positive feeling as if we were at the temple."

III year MBBS students

"We thoroughly enjoyed making eco-friendly greeting cards for the Event.

After many days all of us sat together and worked, it brought in a lot of joy."

Final Year MBBS students

"We realised how joyous and satisfactory it is to feed people and distribute sweets during festivals. It brought in a lot of togetherness."
